The staff dashboard. Every fixture shows at a glance whether parents have been emailed, whether the van is booked, and how many replies are still outstanding.

Drafts stay drafts

A half-typed fixture cannot be published by accident. Nothing reaches parents or the transport list until it is ticked.

Chase in one click

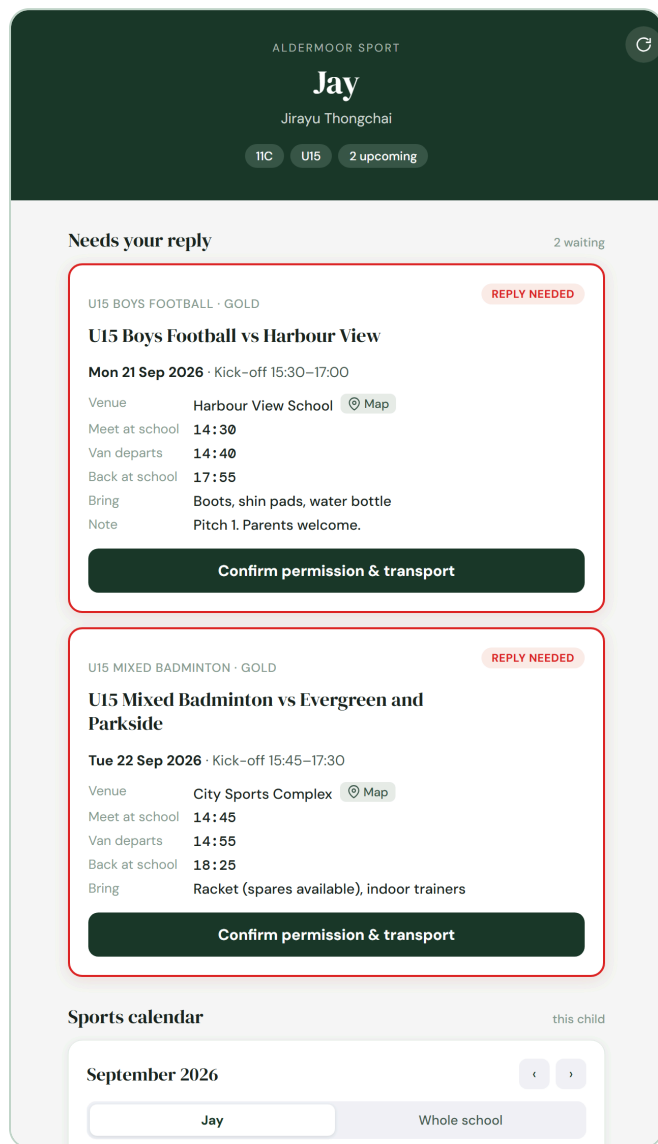

Send invitations, then chase only the families who have not replied. No spreadsheet of who has and has not answered.

Colour is progress

Red not published, amber awaiting invitations, green complete. The sheet tells you what still needs doing.

Parents reply on their phone

Each family gets their own private link. No app to install, no account to create, no password to forget.

One tap to confirm permission and choose how their child gets home.

What a parent sees

- The fixtures their own child has been picked for
- Kick-off, venue with a map pin, and what to bring
- Meet time, van departure and expected return
- The whole-school sports calendar

What it saves you

No permission slips to collect, no reply-all email threads, and no rebuilding the register every time somebody drops out. Replies land straight on the sheet.

One email, both parents

The link is per student, so either parent can answer and the student can be copied in. One reply is enough.

Squads are ranked pools

New squad

A squad is a ranked pool. Gold is ranks 1–12; Blue is the bottom 12. A small pool means the middle players sit in more than one team — open a squad to pin any of them to one team by hand.

Each sport and age group keeps its own pool. Selections are snapshotted when invitations go out, so re-ranking later never rewrites a register already emailed.

Age groups that match your season

Age is worked out on your own cut-off date.
Playing a student up an age group warns you but is never blocked.

Reserves handled

If a family declines, the next player is promoted in rank order and gets their letter automatically.

The transport answers itself

Parents choose where their child gets off. EasyFixtures turns those answers into a job sheet the driver can actually follow.

Rewrite van sheet from fixtures

Only fixtures ticked Van ready are counted here and written to the Vans sheet — that is what the transport office reads, so nothing half-finished reaches it. Every van is a 14-seater, so 13 passengers each once the driver is out.

Editing the Vans sheet by hand is safe. A row you type in yourself has no Ref and is never rewritten; to keep your own version of a row the script generated, tick Locked on it and its fixture stops writing one. That holds for the rewrite button above too.

CONFIRMED

One row per movement, in order, with a map pin for each stop — written for the driver rather than for the office.

Seats booked early

Vans are sized from the squad, not from who has replied, so the booking never waits on the last parent.

Stops are yours

Set your own drop-off points with arrival times. Parents are only offered the stops the van actually makes.

Printable

A coach register per fixture and a van booking sheet per week, both laid out for A4.

Training blocks are booked once and repeat. One parent reply covers the block, and a family can mark a single session they will miss without losing their place.

How it works

- 1 It lives in your Google account. EasyFixtures is a Google Sheet with a web app attached, set up in your school's own Google Workspace. Your data never leaves it, and EasyPE holds no copy.
- 2 You fill in the Settings tab. School name, age groups, team names, venues, drop-off points and your own colours. The other tabs build themselves.
- 3 Staff sign in with a password you set. Parents and students use a private link. No accounts are created for anybody.
- 4 You run the season from the web app. The spreadsheet is there when you want it, but nothing has to be typed into it by hand.

What a school needs

REQUIREMENT	DETAIL
Google Workspace	A school Google account that can own the spreadsheet and run the web app.
Set-up time	About an hour to fill in settings, venues and the student list.
Nothing to host	No server, no database and no software to install or maintain.
Works on phones	Parents, students and staff all use it in a browser.

Ask for a quote

Licensed per school, per year. Tell us your size and which sports you run and we will send a written quote, along with a data and security overview for your IT team.
